All you need to know about voting for the Constitutional Convention Election

This is an election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention. 20 delegates will be elected in New South Wales.

It is a postal ballot - do not go to a polling booth.

The information in this guide will help you complete your ballot paper.

It contains candidate statements and candidate identification numbers to assist you to vote.

VOTING IS STRAIGHT FORWARD

Please read the instructions on your ballot paper. Either place the number '1' in one box above the line, or place candidate identification numbers in the boxes below the line (see page 3).

YOUR VOTING PACKAGE

This guide contains all you need to know about how to vote and an index of candidates and their statements. In addition, you should have also received...

Ballot paper

Blue ballot paper envelope

Reply paid envelope

WHAT TO DO

Once you have completed your ballot paper (see instructions on page 3) insert it into the blue ballot paper envelope. Seal it, sign it and add your date of birth. (Your date of birth is required for identification and security reasons). Then put it all into the reply paid envelope and post to reach the AEC by Tuesday, December 9th.

It is important to have your say

A Constitutional Convention is to be held in February 1998 for a public discussion of issues relating to whether or not Australia should become a republic. Delegates will not have the power to decide to change the current system - that decision is up to the Australian people and could only be made at a referendum.

In this election you vote for delegates from your State or Territory who can contribute to the debate at the Convention. A supplement explaining the key issues involved in the republic debate will be published in major newspapers on the weekend of 8 and 9 November.

Your ballot paper

Delegates will be elected using a Senate style voting system. A candidate will have to gain a proportion, or quota, of the formal votes to be elected as a delegate. Let's look at the ballot paper more closely.

How to vote

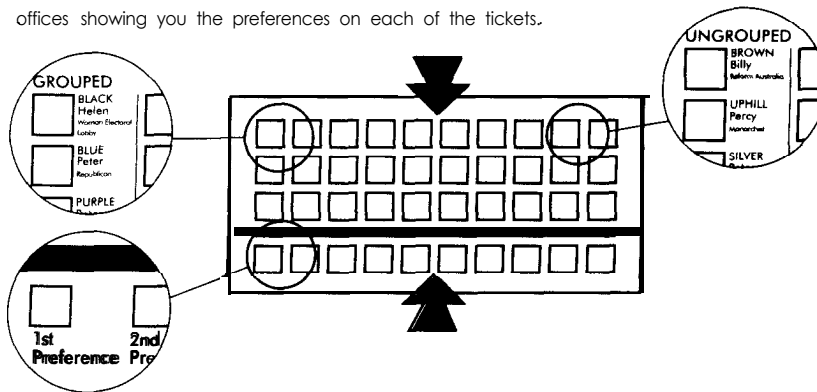

On the ballot paper you have a choice. You can vote either above the line or below the line, but not both.

Each box above the line represents either:

- A group of candidates (the name of the group, together with the name of the first candidate in that group will appear beside the box).
- Or a single candidate who is standing alone. (The candidate's name and any descriptive name they have provided will appear beside the box).
- To vote above the line, simply place the number '1' in one box only.

Your vote will be counted in the way chosen by the group or candidate you have voted for. This is called a ticket vote and information will be displayed at all AEC offices showing you the preferences on each of the tickets.

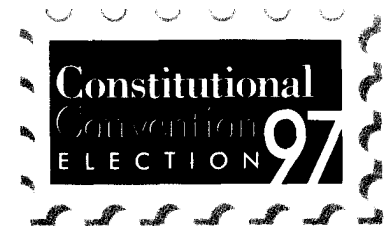

BELOW THE LINE

The area below the line contains 20 boxes marked '1st preference', '2nd preference', '3rd preference' etc.

If you choose to vote below the line, you must place the candidate number of your first preference in the box marked '1st preference', the candidate number of your second choice in the '2nd preference' box and so on.

You will find the candidate identification numbers listed beside their names on pages 4 & 5 of this guide.

Do not write the numbers 1, 2, 3 etc. below the line. You can complete as few or as many boxes below the line as you wish. Your ballot paper will be counted for as many boxes as you have completed.

Either place the number '1' in one square above the line, or place candidate numbers in the boxes below the line (see diagram left).

دُونِ الرِّقْمِ ١ فِي أَحَدِ المَرَبَعَاتِ فَوْقَ الخَطِّ، أَوْ كُتِبَ أَرْقَامُ المَرشِحِينَ فِي المَرَبَعَاتِ المَوْجُودَةِ تَحْتَ الخَطِّ (أَنْظُرِ الرِّسْمَ إِلَى يَسَارِ هَذَا النِّصْرِ).

號放在線上的一个方格內，或將候選數放在線下的格內。(參閱左圖)

Ili u jedan kvadratić iznad crte upišite broj '1' i li u kućice ispod crte upišite brojeve kandidata (kao na ilustraciji lijevo).

Βάλτε τον αριθμό '1' σε ένα τετράγωνο πάνω από την γραμμή ή βάλτε αριθμούς στους υποψήφιους στα τετράγωνα κάτω από την γραμμή (δείτε διάγραμμα αριστερά).

Scrivi il numero '1' in uno sola casella al di sopra della riga oppure scrivi i numeri dei candidati nelle caselle al di sotto della riga (vedi diagramma sulla sinistra).

Или ставете го бројот '1' во едно квадратче над линијата, или ставете ги броевите на кандидатите во квадратчињата под линијата (видете го дијаграмот на левата страна).

Należy albo wstawić cyfrę '1' w okienku powyżej linii, albo umieścić numery swoich kandydatów w okienkach poniżej linii (patrz wykres po lewej).

Или напишите број '1' у један квадратички изнад линије или напишите бројеве кандидата у просторе испод линије (види дијаграм лево).

Coloque el número '1' en uno de los casilleros por encima de la línea, o bien coloque los números de los candidatos en los casilleros debajo de la línea (vase el diagrama a la izquierda).

Ya çizginin üst kısmındaki karelerden birinin içine '1' sayısını koyunuz ya da çizginin alt kısmındaki kutuların içine adayların numaralarını yazınız (soldaki şekle bakınız).

Hoặc viết số '1' vào ô vuông ở phần trên bên vạch ngang, hoặc viết số của mỗi ứng viên vào những ô vuông nằm dưới vạch ngang (Xin xem hình bên trái).

TED MACK
MACK, Ied 192
HABER, Ed 198

Australia's administrative system or Constitution was framed in the 1890s to unite six English colonies - a world that no longer exists. It needs a major restructure to face the twenty-first century. We cannot successfully continue with nine governments and legal systems, 15 Houses of Parliament, 842 MPs and their bureaucracies, all locked in an endless conflict.

While the Head of State should not be changed simply to address historical sectarian or racist grievance, an independent democracy cannot rely on hereditary or appointed leaders. We must have the fight and responsibility to directly elect our Head of State.

AUSTRALIAN REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT

Thanks to the courage and hard work of Australians, this is the best country in the world.

So why can't an Australian be our Head of State? We deserve a Head of State who is proud to be Australian.

We deserve a Head of State who is one of us.

TURNBULL, Malcolm 123

Choir, Australian Republican Movement. Australia needs a Head of State who's first allegiance is to Australia. Our Head of State should be one of us.

MACHIN, Wendy 255

As a former National Party Minister, mother and involved citizen, I believe having our own Head of State is above party politics.

WRAN, Neville 243

My experience as NSW Premier and my involvement in business has taught me our future lies in the Asia Pacific region as an independent nation.

SOWADA, Karin 163

Former Australian Democrats Senator, now Museum curator, involved in the Anglican Church. I want my daughter to grow up in an Australia that's genuinely independent.

GROGAN, Peter 126

Former country solicitor, teacher, football coach AIDS activist. I believe we should all have a say in how our Head of State represents Australia's diversity.

GEORGE, Jennie 117

President, ACTU. Coming from a migrant family I know Australia has been shaped by the efforts of workers. They should be represented at the Convention.

ALLEN, Roger 190

Building a computer business with 50 offices around the world taught me you have to be independent to succeed. As a country so should Australia.

IRVING, Helen 159

My academic background has taught me that when the Australian people wrote our Constitution, they saw Australia eventually becoming independent. The Republic makes it happen.

KENEALLY, Thomas 150

As a writer I try to interpret Australia to readers. An Australian Head of State can interpret us to the world at the highest level.

BEREJKLIAN, Gladys 102

As the 1997 NSW President of the Young Liberals I know that young Australians want to forge our own identity as an independent nation.

CROWE, Stephen 244

As a footballer with the Knight's Premiership winning team I'm proud of Newcastle and Australia. I'll be even prouder with an Australian Head of State.

HAWKE, Hazel 246

Heritage Council Chair. Having combined raising children and public life, I value tradition and change. Both are relevant to our children's and grandchildren's future.

MARINOS, Lex 107

Actor, writer, broadcaster, Director Carnivale, Deputy Chair, Australia Council. I love the arts, sport and Australia. Now's the time for our own Head of State.

SUTTON, Judith Isobel 215

As an ordinary North Coast citizen, teacher and artist, I live in Murwillumbah. I'm more than ever convinced Australia needs our own Head of State.

TOTARO, Paolo 137

Founding Chair NSW Ethnic Affairs Commission. Former Australian Law Reform Commissioner. Our own Head of State will draw together Australia's wonderfully diverse mix of people.

MORAN, Patricia 225

We must convince the world we believe in ourselves, that we are a mature, independent nation. An Australian Head of State will help achieve this.

MOSELMANE, Shaoquett 218

As a young Australian, having an Australian Head of State will mean greater prosperity as we build closer regional ties. Be part of making history.

KELLY, Rose 191

As a young Australian, from the North Coast, I want to acknowledge Australia's uniqueness. Give young people an Australia to strive for and believe in.

FALINSKI, Jason 266

As Young Liberals' National President and member of the Liberal Party's Federal Executive, I'm proudly Australian. That's why I support an Australian Head of State.

WANNOUS, Rania 239

As a young woman from Bankstown the Republic's vital to unifying Australia Building on our strength and diversity, it gives us hope for the future.

CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (FRED

NILE GROUP)

WEBSTER, Alasdair P 208

McLENNAN, Graham C 114

The Australian Constitution has served Australians well. We support a continued Constitutional Monarchy.

The preamble of our Constitution declares our reliance on God, it must be retained.

Second, the Constitution, through the authority of the Monarch, acknowledges that the only, final legitimate authority occurs under God as revealed through the Bible.

These wise provisions, made by Australia's forefathers must be retained to provide the essential spiritual shield for Australia, under which our nation will continue to be protected and blessed.

Our mission is to present these facts to the Convention.

Alasdair Webster BA., Former M.H.R

Dr Graham McLennan, Dentist, Orange.

CITIZENS FOR AN ELECTED PRESIDENT

RUSH, James S 229

RYAN, Laurence D 193

Australia ostensibly acquired nationhood in 1901. But it has taken the whole century to gradually assert our independence which logically cannot be achieved fully until we become a Republic.

Our members have extensive backgrounds in private enterprise and the public sector. They are staunch Republicans who believe nevertheless, that the Commonwealth is a unifying force in the world. We propose that our new Republic remain a member nation.

What we applaud the Keating initiative in proposing a Republic we differ from some Republicans in our strong belief that the Australian people themselves should directly elect their own President.

STEWART, Lex 105

Changing the head of State will not address the critical issues; changes to the rules (constitution) that control politicians/government will.

The Constitution shall belong to the people, and be retained as amended by the people, placing Politicians, Government and Courts effectively under the peoples' control.

A body of elected Australian citizens be established to enforce the rules that limit politicians (government) as entrenched in the Constitution.

The people only, (not Politicians) shall have constitutional right to put forward amendments to the Constitution.

The amended Constitution shall include all the fundamental principles of common law that the people trust to maintain their freedom.

Following the amendments, the re-drafted Constitution shall go to referendum.

The above principles are essential to restore integrity to government, and hope and prosperity to all Australians.

Australia must re-establish Australian owned manufacturing, forming and mining industries and limit politicians ability to sellout or destroy them, this will ensure jobs and the prosperity of Australia and its people. This can only be guaranteed if the people have effective control of government.

The existing system where destructive, complicated, oppressive taxation and interest is imposed on Australians while foreign and multinationals escape virtually untaxed must be reversed

The Constitution is the only means available to people to control politicians and government. To be effective there must be an elected body responsible directly to the people, charged with enforcing the rules laid down in the Constitution.

The Republic debate presents a significant opportunity for Australians to take control of our collective life, by entrenching principles of equality, fairness and ecological sustainability in our new Constitution.

We must not continue with our current monarchist Constitution nor should we accept a "minimalist republic".

Vote for A Just Republic:

*The Commonwealth of Australia must have a President elected by the people, not by politicians. The President should act on the advice of the Prime Minister. The President's role will be mainly symbolic, spell out in the Constitution.

*The Constitution must, through a Preamble, affirm our democratic freedoms, the rights of Indigenous Australians, and our character as a multicultural society based on mutual respect and ecological sustainability.

*We need a Bill of Rights in the Constitution, entrenching our individual and collective freedoms. We are citizens, not subjects.

*We must continue with Constitutional modernisation after the year 2001, to ensure ongoing Reconciliation with Indigenous Australians, to achieve proportional representation for all parliamentary elections, to entrench fixed four year terms for parliaments to recognise Local Government in the Australian Constitution, and to review federation.

Not Just A Republic.

Our candidates are: Pat O'Shane (magistrate); John Maifiond (trade union leader); Patrick Thompson (environment&t); Ben Slade (legal aid lawyer); Sally McManus (trade union organiser); Dorothy McRae-McMahon (Uniting Church Minister); Lee Silva (Chairperson, Redfern Aboriginal Corporation).

DUNMORE LANG COLLEGE
ALLAN, Prudence 195
MONTGOMERY, Hayes M 141

Dunmore Lang College supports the role of educated young Australians debating the constitutional future of our country. The College has nominated two outstanding students for election because of their ability to participate in the debate in an intelligent, informed way. Our candidates understand the background to the debate and will go to Canberra with open minds to listen to all the arguments for and against change. The outcome of the convention process should provide political stability national unity, and international credibility.

(Dunmore Lang College is a residential college for men and women located on the campus of Macquarie University, Sydney).

GREENS, BILL OF RIGHTS, INDIGENOUS PEOPLES

The Australian Greens, the Australian Bill of Rights Group and the Australian Indigenous Peoples Party support the republic. For us, the most important question is what kind of republic will serve Australians in the twenty-first century. We would like to see the Constitution protect the environment, recognise basic rights and responsibilities and acknowledge the first Australians. Any move to a republic ought to give everybody a fair go, including future generations.

ETHOS - ELECT THE HEAD OF STATE

GUNTER, Andrew 144

MARCHANDEAU, Véronique 185

ETHOS wants all Australian voters to have the democratic freedom to elect the Australian Head of State directly.

ETHOS believes that only Australian voters can give legitimate moral authority to our Head of State. If elected, ETHOS candidates will support a referendum on whether the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia should be changed to provide:

• A resident Head of State, an Australian citizen directly elected by the people, and a separate choice between:

(a) An "umpire" Head of State with codified powers similar to the Governor General's; or

(b) An "executive" Head of State with powers similar to the United States President.

NO REPUBLIC - ACM

Representing all walks of life, holding different political views, coming from different ethnic origins combining youth and experience, we believe that together we can:

*Defend the Constitution, the heartbeat of our nation;
*Keep Australia a safe, stable, independent, sovereign nation;

*Keep leadership above politics;
*Preserve our Flag, our heritage, our Anthem, our NSW Government House and our traditions for our children;

• Expose the risks in any "model" republics;
*Expose a president as another politician;

*Save the emotional and financial cost of changing to a republic.

STABLE INDEPENDENTS

HOWARD, Warwick 233

O'NEILL, Pauline 271

MARTIN, Charles H 236

We are concerned with the overall revision of the Constitution to give us future stable Government. We believe the current Convention should be extended to consider all voting, terms, etc. of Parliamentarians and Judiciary efficiently in the 21st Century.

We are most concerned with the vote itself.

We believe that:

Future Governors General / Presidents should be elected by all members of States Lower Houses in a secret ballot.

Our vote at the Convention will be decided on benefits of a Republic, as yet unrepresented otherwise status quo.

AUSTRALIAN RECONCILIATION

We stand for justice, recognition and respect for Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders. The Constitution should acknowledge all human history in this land. The Commonwealth Parliament should have special responsibility to make laws for the benefit of the indigenous peoples. We support a republic based on reconciliation and recognition.

BURNEY, Linda 202

A mature, united Australia will be possible if our Constitution and people fully recognise the heritage rights of indigenous peoples. It's important for all Australians.

RIDGEWAY, Aden 160

The Constitution stands for "inclusive democracy." Do not let us, as Indigenous Australians, become persons absent from our consciousness, our deliberations and our daily lives.

McCARTHY, Wendy 188

Reconciliation is the heart of the matter. A people's movement can make it happen so that Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders miss out no longer.

BRENNAN, Fmnk 242

Australia does not have a royal family. We do have indigenous peoples. The Constitution should be based on facts. We need a republic with reconciliation.

REPUBLICANS FOR MORE THAN

MINIMALIST DEMOCRACY

KNELL, Rob 146

CROUCHER, Rob 174

"Only a base, vile, insignificant country can be democratic." - Benito Mussolini

At Federation we inherited Britain's Monarchy and their rather minimal democracy Perhaps appropriate for a newborn Nation, but now, almost a century later, we've outgrown both

The change in our level of education plus modern communications allows us to take a greater share of our own governance than voting for Party "A" or Party "B" every few years.

We'd push the Convention to investigate how best to become a truly Democratic Republic.

"Ask not what your county can do for you ask what you could do with your country."

COMMUNITY REPUBLICANS (POPULAR ELECTION OF PRESIDENT)

We are grassroots Republicans advocating maximum citizen participation in constitutional, electoral and government reform.

We completely trust fellow Australians to select the Head-of-State, and regulate presidential powers. Our Elders are wise enough, our Country People experienced enough, our Indigenous People forgiving enough, our Youth enthusiastic enough, our Immigrants courageous enough!

CONSANDINE, Peter 252

Notional Executive Director/Party Founder (1982); Produced many Republic-related works;

Conducted 246 Community Republican Street Fairs Australia-wide (1991-1997);

Activist Republican for 26 years.

KATELARIS, Connie 101

Physician, Westmead Hospital; Strong supporter of Community Republicans' platform; advocates equality of opportunity for all Australians, Bill of Rights, Australia's future as a Constitutional Republic.

GILCHRIST, Neil 113

MBA (Public Sector Administration); M.Comm (Information Systems); Computer Analyst/Programmer, Chairman NSW Henry George Foundation, fluent Italian French languages. Primary Concerns: Electoral, Parliamentary, Tax Reform.

CRENNAN, Elizabeth 104

Longtime catalyst for social change.

Founder, rural Futures Forum (Bellingen).

Vision: Bringing wisdom, open-mindedness to creating independent, sovereign Australia through true individual participation by all.

BUCKLEY, Brian 165

Accountant. Oberon-based. Republican, 30 years. Author: "Dawning of a Republic" (2nd edition pending).

Advocates popular election of the Australian President with defined constitutional powers.

GODFREY BIGOT'S TRADITIONAL FAMILY VALUES PARTY

BIGOT, Godfrey 153

Giddy This Convention will be wonderful; a fantastic Juke. I'll mingle with celebrity windbags, and the golf-course is nearby. As President of Australian Constitutional Monarchists, I've been intimate with the entire Royal family; including the corgis. I've played twister with the Queen Mother and discoloured with Charlie. Being a Christian, I've discouraged toe-sucking, (and other perversions one expects only from the priesthood). My supporters include: my girlfriend - Pauline Hanson, her associates - Herman Goering, John Howard, Hugh Hefner, and, notably, Alan Jones; he's tight behind me. Let Bigot speak for the Monarchists - Gii them hat they deserve.

SHORT, Warwick 241

Each Australian must have the right to vote for the President of Australia or Head of State. A vote for "Elect the President" is a vote for yourself having the right to vote for the President instead of letting members of Parliament have the exclusive role of deciding who will be President. The Head of Australia has previously been decided by politicians who appoint mates, or judges. Australia is more than politicians and High Court Judges. Australia is a diverse society. All Australians regardless of their sex, race, religion, or who they know, must have the opportunity and right to stand and vote for the President of Australia.

Australia has come of age since Federation, almost a century ago. Our society is far richer and more culturally diverse. Great Britain also has moved on and is now much closer to Europe. As we enter the third millennium, we must do so as a truly independent nation, maintaining our historical links but in a way that no longer reflects symbolic subservience to anyone

Recent events demonstrate the monarchy is out of touch with community values and respect for the individual and is losing its relevance. In modern England, it is even less relevant to the people of Australia, some 20,000 kilometres distant.

By electing the President, we can demand that the President stays in touch with people and community standards and focuses on Australia and the needs of all Australians. By abandoning the class structure inherent in a monarchy, we can ensure that our children are encouraged to respect people based on their character and contribution to Australia, rather than on class or race.

The protection of democracy and the Australian way of life requires that the people of Australia have the right to vote for the President who must be accountable to the people at regular elections, not to Canberra politicians who are remote from people's needs. An elected President will have greater independence and standing. While politicians may not like this, it ensures the President is truly able to represent all Australians.

Few Australians have the money and time to join political groups to influence the actions of Government. The President of Australia will protect and represent all those who can't afford to join political groups. The President of Australia will be there to protect you and your families' nigh. Make sure you have the right to vote for who the President will be by voting for William Hannan (Elect the President).

WOMEN FOR A JUST REPUBLIC

A new century needs a new constitution which ensures that women play an active and equal role in shaping Our Nation. For Australia to be truly democratic we need a republican constitution that guarantees this equality. This issue must be considered at the convention, then proposed to you by referendum.

DUNCAN, Darelle 155

I am a school principal and member of the Australian Women's Party. At the Convention of 1897 no women were present. Elect women this time.

MANTEL, Alice 145

As a lawyer and member of the Australian Women's Party, attending the Convention means making a future republic more equitable and representative of modern society.

AUSTRALIAN MONARCHIST LEAGUE

Our Constitution has for 100 years produced stable constitutional government and protection of our democracy and freedoms that cannot be guaranteed in a republic.

you can continue that protection for yourself and your children by rejecting the uncertainties of republics and voting for the Australian Monarchist League Garland Team.

McGEE, Terry D 258 RECOGNISE SPECIAL BRITIC RELATIONSHIP IN CONSTITUTION

Complete independence does not exist. While working with Asia and the world the de-facto "special relationship" between Australia, New Zealand, Canada, England, Scotland, Wales and Eire that has been obscured and subordinated to the monarchy should be recognised, clarified, renegotiated, revitalised and formally incorporated into our constitution, not forgotten.

HEWITT, Glenda 224 I CARE ABOUT AUSTRALIA'S FUTURE

The question is, 'what is best for our nation?'. It's important to be open minded on the pros and cons of a republic and committed to searching for the best solution for Australia's future. As a non-aligned independent, this is the approach I will take at the Constitutional Convention.

BANKS, Robin 189 A REPUBLIC FOR ALL AUSTRALIANS

I am the Co-ordinator of a Community Legal Centre for people with disabilities.
I will promote an Australian Republic with a Constitution that reflects
*Australia's independence;
*its history, both Indigenous and non-Indigenous;
*the needs and rights of everyone in Australia;
and ensures a Head of State without party-political ties

KING, Jonathan 152 "FAIR GO" CONSTITUTION FOR ALL AUSTRALIANS

An independent Political Scientist, Historian, author of "Fight for Federation" and heritage champion who defeated bureaucrats for Bicentennial First Fleet Tall Ships Expedition, I'll fight for popular Australian values, Westminster Democracy, Bill of Rights and a plain English, modern, commonsense 'fair go', constitution protecting and reflecting wishes of ordinary people.

FORSYTH, Ian 221 REPUBLIC - HOW AND WHEN?

The Convention is to:
• review the Constitution as a working document
• make recommendations about revisions
• be beyond politics or simple discussions of republic or monarchy
Cutcomes of the Convention must support good governance for all Australians into the future.

IVOR, F 227 IVOR, F

I am much more interested in improving our Constitution to return power where it should be US

SECCOMBE, Ian 209 PEOPLES PROTECTOR PARTY

Monarchy gave stability but change comes. The name republic is furnished American glitz, African dictatorship. We want a commonwealth with elected Peoples Protector who can nudge or dismiss Parliament.
No privileged groups in the Constitution.
Qualifications: M.A., completing Dip Law Former primary principal, state councillor to Teachers Federation; Liberal Party.

SCHNEIDER, Quentin 211 DINKUM BOSS-COBBERS: NO ELECTORAL FAVOURITISM

Electoral selection: favouritism; egotism; cronyism An inherently divisive way to determine Australia's symbolic Head-of-State.
Our 'People's' Constitution should:
(a) clearly establish Australia's Constitutional Monarchy without religious/gender/etc. bias;
(b) uniquely recognise the First Australians (perhaps through a joint symbolic Head-of-State, where separate indigenous figurehead symbolises territorial (as opposed to political) sovereignty)

BERGIN, Brian 249 BRIAN BERGIN FOR THE AUSTRALIAN REPUBLIC

Subjects or citizens? Our tired institutions and ethically inadequate leaders have us anchored in the past. Let's rethink our Constitution and replace yesterday's monarchs with our own Presidents... Australian Presidents with integrity and moral leadership, to show our grandkids the way forward... Presidents who we, the Australian people, elect!

PARKINSON, David 267 DAVID PARKINSON, A RURAL PERSPECTIVE

Rural New South Wales' interests must not be dominated by metropolitan and idealistic viewpoints in the Constitutional debate. Avoid domination by vested interests: elect a non-party, independent voice backed by twenty years as an elected rural local government representative.

I stand for an Australian Constitution modernised through minimal change.

FISHER, David 205
TRUE INDEPENDENCE

I see this as my chance to help make Australia a truly independent country, by including all Australian's opinions in an open and fair debate that will determine the direction this country will take constitutionally, and, hopefully, in the process, make everyone proud to be an Australian.

RICKARD, Timothy J 217
INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN

It's time for Australia to achieve genuine independence by appointing an Australian as Head of State.

The fundamental principles of our current system should be retained in the republic model.

Formerly a lawyer, banker and political adviser, now General Manager of a Sydney engineering business. Married with two young children.

LODER, Kaye 228
AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

As "the voice of working women" Business and Professional Women's priority is to ensure women are well represented at the Constitutional Convention, Their views need to be heard as part of the debate, My personal opinion is that Australians are mature enough to become citizens of a republic.

HENRY, Catherine 120
BILL OF RIGHTS FOR AUSTRALIA

The most important features of any constitution are the peoples' rights protected by it, yet our Australian Constitution contains no such safeguards. This convention is your opportunity to guarantee the rights all Australians take for granted and to ensure fundamental freedoms are preserved for future generations

DAVIS, Brian Robert 237
RETAIN THE MONARCHY

We have a unique constitution.
Only the Australian people change it.
I will ensure that questions put to the people maintain that people power.

I am a supporter of Citizen Initiated referenda. All Republican models seen to date diminish people power in favour of increased power to politicians,

RIDER, Steve 131
AUSTRALIAN REPUBLICAN WORKER'S PARTY

The Australian Republican Workers Party will endeavour to represent the voice of the workers of this country.

I will put forward a strong voice for change to the constitutional framework of Australia.

For too long Australian workers have been shackled by the chains of our royal colonial masters. Break free!

WILLCOX, B 263

PRIVATE CITIZEN

When Britain committed to Europe in the 1960's, a change to our Constitution became inevitable. Neither the British royal court nor the pretend royal court of America is the right model.
Our Constitution must reflect the equality and pragmatism which characterises the Australian community.

OWEN, Andrew 223
ANDREW OWEN

I am 25 years old, Born in Coffs Harbour and raised in Colyton. I seek the faith, the wisdom and, the courage to do what is right in the years to come 200 years ago we built a nation, now it is time to find a home.
Give me ago.

MARSHALL, Ied 222
CONDITIONAL REPUBLIC

Former Senior Court Officer(Govt. Dept.)
Any proposed Republic should be conditional upon the president being chosen and elected by fair and free vote of the people and not by Parliament. The president should represent the people and not be bound to Political Party directives.
His powers should be substantial.

CROSS, Mew 170
INTERDEPENDENT

As a first Fleeter I feel responsible to ensure that our heritage is not destroyed.
Australia needs to develop its own interdependent autonomy without losing its magnificent traditions. Links with Britain need to be severed without undermining the foundations of our excellent Constitution.
The head of state must be Australian.

SMITH, Tony 142
LET'S CLARIFY ALL REPUBLIC OPTIONS

As a lecturer at Sydney University's Omge Campus I have taught constitutional Law for eight years. I have participated in both "Australia Consults" programs, the Bathurst peoples' Convention 1996 and am involved in the 1997 local constitutional conventions.
I want to clarify republic options and help the public understand them.

MASIAN, Sennie 115
BELIEVES IN REPUBLIC AND MULTICULTURAL AUSTRALIA

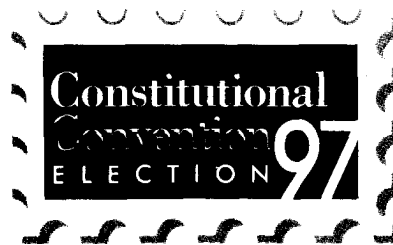

I believe in a government that is democratic, independent, innovative and stable with leaders who are progressive thinkers, compassionate and fair to all citizens regardless of colour, age, gender, religion, education and economic status.
I believe in a society that values diversity and respect migrants and their contributions.

GALLAGHER, Mick 231
TRUE INDEPENDENT

It is important that independent arbitrators are elected to represent you, consider all points raised from both sides and raise matters of Constitutional concern. The Republic debate will not solve unemployment, foreign debt or our economy. Are we being divided again for political purposes? - Lets debate

THOMAS, Leigh James 213
REPUBLICAN FOR AUSTRALIA

I will be standing for a republic by minimal change with an elected president by the people.
I will also be advocating a Bill of Rights to be included in the rewriting of the constitution.
Thank you for your support.

BYRNE, Marlene 203
MARLENE BYRNE INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN

Let our people speak. As a modern independent nation we must have an Australian Head of State, popularly elected, promoting Australian values and serving a reconciled Australian Republic; a Republic celebrating our diverse cultures and encouraging all our people to reach their full potential through peace, order and good government.

NEUSS, Phillip 214
AUSTRALIA'S HOLIDAY COAST NORTHERN NSW REPUBLICAN

Please consider! I'm not a tall poppy and its important for real people to give a country perspective to balance city power. I'll press for logical sensible change. I attended the peoples Constitutional Convention in Bathurst in November 1996. I'm well informed, widely read, travelled all over and moderate. Vote 1.

SWEETING, David 147
UNIQUE AUSTRALIAN ROYAL FAMILY

Minimum change: The Australian Monarch can no longer be the Monarch of another country
This preserves Australia's highly stable form of government.
i.e. Hereditary head of state, Democratically elected parliament, Autocratic parties and Bureaucratic public service.
The media can focus on Australia's own princes and princesses, supporting people and charities.

SHEPHERD, Bruce D 238

I've always fought for what I believe in; deaf children, with the AMA, patients and doctors.
Republic or Monarchy I would like to help to see us governed so all Australians may better achieve their potential.
Australia will be different after this convention - vie must get it right.
